Launch High-Level Inquiry

McElroy Says U. S. Bombers Will Not Stop Carrying A-Bombs Despite Protests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government launched a high-level military inquiry today into "wider implications" of the Florence, S. C., atomic bomb accident.

At the same time Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy made it plain U. S. Strategic Air Command bombers will not stop carrying unarmed atomic bombs in round-the-clock training flights in these "perilous times" despite fresh "ban the bomb" demands from Russia and others.

Ignoring U. S. claims that unarmed bombs cannot produce nuclear explosions, Radio Moscow declared that an accident like the one at Florence could touch off World War III if America ordered its striking forces into action in the mistaken belief an enemy attack had started.

Defense officials, without issuing any formal counterstatement, indicated there is virtually no danger of starting a major atomic war by accident. They said there are two major precautions:

—There is a foolproof system for recalling U. S. Atom Bombers if they start a retaliatory attack that proves unwarranted.

—The bombers cannot by law drop nuclear bombs without the President's specific approval.

McElroy announced that chiefs of three major Air Force commands — Materiel, Research and Development, and SAC — have been ordered to set up "a high level group to investigate the wider implications of this unfortunate occurrence."

McElroy said the commanders have been directed "to determine if there is any action which should be taken, which has not already been provided for, to insure the maximum safety of our operations."

McElroy, in a statement issued Wednesday night, said the accidental dropping of an unarmed nuclear bomb near Florence Tuesday "demonstrated the accuracy" of a recent Pentagon statement that no nuclear explosion would occur from detonation of an unarmed bomb.

The bomb, dropped accidentally from an Air Force B-47 jet bomber, blew up on hitting the ground but did not cause a nuclear explosion, according to the Air Force after an on-the-scene investigation. Six persons were injured, none critically, and a home was destroyed.

The Air Force Wednesday identified crewmen aboard the plane as Capt. Earl E. Koehler of Ft. Campbell, Ill., the aircraft commander; the pilot, Capt. Charles S. Woodruff of Van Wert, Ohio, and Capt. Bruce M. Kulka of New York City, observer.

Draft Deferment Qualification Tests to Be May 1

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Qualification tests for students seeking deferment from military service to attend college will be given May 1 in Illinois. Lt. Col. F. B. Woodworth, acting state selective service director, announced today.

Woodworth said application cards and instructions should be obtained now from local selective service boards. The May 1 test will be the only one offered for the 1957-58 school year.

Scores made on the test are used by local boards as a guide in considering requests for deferment by college students. A student's standing in class also is considered.

Many men are able to complete undergraduate study before reaching an age when induction may be expected, and consequently do not need to seek a deferment, Woodworth said.

Present draft calls are for young men 22 or older.

Two Escape from State Farm

The men were identified as Carl D. Johnson, 28, and Thomas Hooper, 33.

The car was found south of Salem at the junction of Ill. 161-37.

Senate Passes $1.8 Billion Housing Measure

Seeks to Stimulate Construction, Provide Employment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today went to work on a big recession-geared housing bill aimed at stimulating the construction of 200,000 new homes and providing employment for 500,000 men.

The Senate passed the $1,850,000,000 measure Wednesday night on an 86-0 roll call after a fight over boosting the interest on GI home loans.

House sources said there was a 50-50 chance the Senate-approved rate of 4 1/2 per cent would still stand when the bill is sent to the White House.

Chairman Olin Teague (D-Tex.) of the House Veterans Affairs Committee said, "If it has to be 4 1/2 per cent to get the President to sign the bill and get some housing built, I'll support it. But I'm not sure, as yet, that is the case."

The Administration had requested the present rate of 4 1/2 per cent be hiked to 5 per cent to bring GI loans more in line with FHA-insured mortgages.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) called the bill "one of the most important" the Senate could pass to combat the business slump. He said it could result in jobs for more than 10 per cent of the 5,200,000 now listed as unemployed.

Using a rough rule of thumb, government officials said one man year of work is created for each $6,000 spent on new construction. The rule also holds that for each man wielding a hammer or saw, three more are employed in supply lines.

The housing bill would provide 1 1/2 billion dollars for discretionary federal mortgage buying, 300 million dollars for direct veterans housing loans and 50 million for government purchases of military housing mortgages.

Sen. Russell Long (D-La.), a leader in the fight to retain the lower rate, said the proposal would make the bill a "price support bill for money lenders."

Brick Plant Will Not Be Rebuilt at Least at Present Time

Least at Present Time

The Harrisburg Brick and Tile Co. does not plan to rebuild its plant in the south part of Harrisburg at the present time, James Childress, plant superintendent, announced yesterday afternoon.

The plant was destroyed by fire last September with only the kilns remaining.

Mr. Childress said that the decision was made because of the present economic condition but that building back the plant might be considered this fall.

Two Carbondale Men Sentenced

Receive Terms

For Possessing

Counterfeit Money

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie today sentenced two Carbondale men to prison terms for possession of counterfeit money after they changed pleas of innocent to guilty.

Francis W. Adams, 36, and Clifford P. Rowe, 22, both of Carbondale, were sentenced to five years and three years in prison, respectively. Briggie also indicated that identical and concurrent terms would be imposed on each man for charges of passing counterfeit money pending in Chicago.

Briggie ordered Secret Service agents to reimburse individuals in the St. Louis and Chicago area for counterfeit money they had accepted from the two men as far as it was possible to do so. Secret Service agents estimated about $900 in counterfeit bills had been distributed.

Both men previously pleaded innocent to the possession charge, but changed the innocent plea to guilty, and requested probation. Briggie denied their request. "Counterfeiting strikes at the foundations of our country," he said, indicating the offense was too serious to warrant probation.

Adams and Rowe were arrested here Jan. 16 when they were stopped by a state policeman who noticed their car had only one license plate. He found $2,340 in counterfeit $10 and $20 bills hidden in the car. Another $8,000 in bogus bills were seized in a Marion safe deposit box.

Secret Service agents also seized $669 in legitimate currency when the two men were arrested.

Secret Service agents said both men also have agreed to plead guilty to the passing of counterfeit charges pending in Chicago, and agreed to help make up the losses to individuals to whom the money was distributed.

Ask Increase in Funds for Soil Conservation to Expand Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson today asked a supplemental appropriation of $14,780,000 for the Soil Conservation Service would enable that agency to increase the number of new small watershed development and flood prevention projects from 60 to about 100 in fiscal 1959.

President Eisenhower asked Congress Wednesday to increase the original SCS 1959 budget of $27,220,000 to $42,000,000 as a means of helping the nation pull out of the economic recession.

Benson said the proposed new spending would speed up needed soil and water conservation work, and would help stimulate business activity in rural areas and in the

Goldwater, McClellan Doubt UAW Innocent in Kohler Strike Riots

Committee Would Need New Funds for Extensive Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said today the Senate Rackets Committee should question "every man in Wisconsin" if necessary to determine whether the United Auto Workers Union was responsible for violence in the 4-year-old Kohler Co. strike.

Goldwater, a member of the committee, said he was "convinced that these incidents, these riots were planned by the union and executed by the union" despite denials by UAW officials.

He said the committee should prove the point "if we have to drag every man in Wisconsin down here to do it."

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) joined in expressing doubt that "this big union and its international representatives are so innocent in this thing." He said he shared Goldwater's sentiments, but the committee would have to ask for new funds to investigate as extensively as Goldwater suggested.

Their remarks were prompted by testimony of Donald Rand, UAW representative of Detroit, who denied that the union had anything to do with the 1955 "clay boat incident" on the Sheboygan, Wis., waterfront.

Previous witnesses testified that large crowds of strikers, who appeared to be directed at least in part by Rand, massed in front of the dock and prevented the Kohler Co. from unloading a boatload of clay needed in making plumbing fixtures.

Rand said he merely went down to the dock to try to persuade truck drivers hauling the clay not to cross UAW picket lines at the Kohler plant. He swore he did not invite the strikers to the scene or to try to stir up a disturbance.

He said he feared trouble because the company was "stupid" enough to send its plant manager, Edmund Biever, to the scene. Biever was described Wednesday as the "most hated man" at Kohler. Rand said he had "been convicted of running over one of the strikers."

Goldwater read excerpts from a union broadcast which said the clay boat "has been chased out of Wisconsin waters by the pressure of public opinion and union solidarity."

Another broadcast quoted Harvey Kitzman, UAW regional director, as saying Sheboygan Local 833 would put up picket lines anywhere that boat tried to unload "hot clay."

The company has accused the union of more than 800 acts of violence in the prolonged strike.

Streets, Roads Slushy; Traffic Moves Slowly

Heavy Snow Breaks Many Phone Lines; Power Off 2 Hours

Southern Illinois awakened today to find the biggest snow of the season, which disrupted power and communication lines and slowed traffic. Power was off in the Harrisburg area but was restored.

The snow, which began in the early morning hours, continued into the afternoon. It was wet, heavy snow and because of warmer temperatures, much of it melted during the day.

Streets, sidewalks and highways were slushy. Traffic moved slowly and there were morning reports of cars stalling on slippery streets and roads, of some of them sliding off into ditches and of one or two minor collisions.

Officers this morning said that highways in southern Illinois were passable at speeds of about 30 or 35 miles per hour.

To make matters worse, heavy snow clinging to power and telephone lines broke many of them.

Power lines of the Central Illinois Public Service Co. and the Southeastern Illinois Electric cooperative were down in many places.

William Hopkins, CIPS group superintendent, said there were several instances of broken lines, that some troubles were in the main transmission lines.

Power went off in the Harrisburg-Carrier Mills area at 9:50 a. m. and was restored in Harrisburg two hours later.

Hopkins said the company had difficulty in locating trouble and had to trace several lines. He stated that ordinarily the CIPS two-way radio communication would cover the entire territory, that on some days the company could hear messages as far away as West Virginia. However, today, due to atmospheric conditions, the two-way system would not carry or receive more than 10 to 15 miles; so line-men had to trace trouble simply by starting men out in various directions.

About 250 to 300 telephones were out in Harrisburg due to the snow. Most disruptions were caused, the General Telephone Co. stated, by heavy snow snapping the lines, that businesses with inter-communication systems had no service because of lack of power.

Toll lines were down to Marion, Shawneetown and Galatia and considerable rural service was out in the Bankston Creek area west of the city.

The two-hour disruption of power was throwing The Daily Register late today. Besides needing the power to run the equipment, power is used to heat molten type metal and since it had hardened during the disruption, a considerable wait was necessary before the metal was liquefied again.

The teletypes over which news is received were out at The Daily Register, WSIL-TV and WEBQ. The television and radio stations were off the air during the disruption. Several other businesses were also affected.

The snowstorm line appeared to stretch from Centralia to Cairo in Illinois with the average depth being between three and four inches.

The United Press reported snow depths up to ten inches along Oklahoma's southern border and that all dirt roads in the state were impassable. Up to seven inches of snow hit the El Paso area in Texas and the Texas Panhandle. Two-foot drifts in the Panhandle were blamed for the death of a motorist who suffered a heart attack when his car became stuck in the snow.

Snow up to six inches deep fell in parts of Missouri.

Civil Rights Suspended by Cuban Gov't

HAVANA (AP)—Strict censorship cloaked developments today in Cuba, where a revolt that has been dragging on for nearly 16 months appears to be coming to a head.

Freedom of the press was one of the civil rights suspended by the government Wednesday, barely five weeks after those rights had been restored to most of the country. Civil rights in rebel-infested Oriente Province were restored only a matter of hours before the new suspension.

Congress will meet Friday to ratify the order curbing civil liberties. The legislature's strong pro-government majority is considered certain to approve the action.

The government order suspended civil rights for an initial period of 45 days, subject to extension later if circumstances seem to warrant it. Censors were promptly installed at newspapers, radio stations and news-agency offices.

Minutes after the order was issued, Foreign Minister Emilio Nuñez Portuondo—who also had been serving as "premier"—and four other cabinet members quit their jobs.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON SAYS: Auto industry needs tax relief more than insurance companies; admiral's wife goes on tree-planting binge on Guam; she rivals Gen.
"Ack-Ack" Ackerman as a decorator.

WASHINGTON.—It will be extremely interesting to see what happens to Sen. Clinton Anderson's drive to let distressed industries get tax concessions similar to that urged for the undistressed insurance companies.

The New Mexico Democrat himself an insurance man, has warned colleagues:

"We have been told in the past that we cannot go on tax revision on a piecemeal basis. Yet now the life insurance companies, which have one of the finest lobbies in Washington, come along and want piecemeal legislation which would give them tax concessions of $124,000,000.

"The insurance business is booming. If they are going to get piecemeal legislation, why not some piecemeal legislation for the auto industry, which is in a slump? Why not remove the excise taxes on cars? Henry Ford says this would help the industry and I think he's right."

Anderson also proposes that if the insurance companies are going to get piecemeal tax relief, there are piecemeal legislation giving a personal tax exemption of $650 to each family, plus removal of the transportation tax, plus a lowering of the rate on the first $1,000 of earned income to help small taxpayers.

It will be interesting to see how senate leaders, who have been urging measures to revive the economy, operate backstage for or against the big life insurance companies.

DECORATING BINGE ON GUAM

The ouster of Maj. Gen. John
"Bidet" Ackerman, 13th Air Force commander in the Philippines, for his decorating binge, revealed only part of his military decorating in the Pacific. The Navy has a case of its own involving Adm. W. B.

Ammon, commander of the Marianas, whose ambitious wife has kept the island of Guam in a dizzy whirl of decorating and gardening.

Every woman likes to "change things around" when moving into a new home. However, the changes charming Mrs. Ammon has made since she and the admiral took up residence at "Flag Circle" on Guam would make the average taxpayer's wife, who is footing the bill, green with envy.

One of her more famous projects is facetiously known as "Operation Jackhammer." Mrs. Ammon, according to other Guam residents, didn't like the coconut palms planted by Adm. Chester Nimitz on the driveway in front of "Flag Circle." Apparently they weren't dignified enough. With her husband's approval, the trees were cut down and replaced by Royal palms—which are taller, statelier, and minus coconuts.

The whole job required two weeks of sweating toil by Navy personnel and cost the taxpayers around $1,500. Since Guam is a coral island, jackhammers had to be used to drill holes big enough to accommodate the replanted trees.

The admiral's lady also has engaged in rather extensive interior decorating. She has had her living room and sun-parlor furniture done over at least three times—at an estimated $2,000. When Guam merchants couldn't supply some of the reupholstery material she wanted, she had the material flown from a New York department store. The bill came to around $225, plus $80 for air express.

LAMPS FROM HONG KONG

Mrs. Ammon also wanted some ornate, Oriental lamps, which were not stocked by Guam merchants or the naval exchange. She bought them in Hong Kong. She also had the Navy put in an electric dryer and dishwasher in her quarters.

It took six months for the government to finish equipping and remodeling her quarters, at an estimated cost of over $10,000. This included an expensive Chinese lattice-work partition between the living and dining rooms. The Ammons also went in for a sizable gardening and renovating program around the Officers' club, the admiral's Guest House, and his office. Refurbishing painting, etc., ran to over $20,000. These improvements all became property of the Navy and were not in violation of regulations. However, the decorating splurge did not make for good morale among other naval personnel on Guam.

Before the Ammons moved in,
there were four gardeners serving the homes of the admiral and staff officers on "Flag Circle." Two would have been enough. But Mrs. Ammon coaxed her husband into increasing the gardening crew to six. Total cost to the taxpayers is about $18,000.

Navy friends say the vivacious
Mrs. Ammon can talk her husband into compliance with most of her desires, though she frequently uses the direct approach and gives the orders herself.

AVERELL LOOKS AHEAD

It's a long time between now and the 1960 presidential convention, but Governor Harriman of New York is already trying to make a secret compact with California Democrats to control the convention.

He has sent word to Pat Brown, Democratic candidate for governor of California and to Paul Ziffren, Democratic committeeman in Los Angeles, that the two biggest states in the Union, New York and California have enough delegates to dominate the convention if they stick together.

Harriman did not ask the Californians to support him for president. What he wanted was a pact to guarantee a liberal Democratic platform on such problems as school integration and labor. He also wants to make sure that the South does not pick the Democratic candidates.

This move is more important than appears on the surface. It means that liberal northern governors, including "Soapy" Williams of Michigan, Bob Meyner of New Jersey, plus Democratic lead-

The men, accused as accessories, included Arthur E. Williams, 46, operator of a malt shop here, and Harold Jones, 21.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son and grandson, Robert McReynolds, who passed away 15 years ago, March 12, 1943 at the age of 21 years:

He little thought when leaving home
He would return no more.
That in death so soon would sleep,
And leave us here to mourn.
We do not know what pain he bore,
We did not see him die.
We only know he passed away
And could not say goodbye.
Gone from us is his loving face,
His pleasant cheerful ways,
A heart that won so many friends
In bygone happy days.
Our hearts still ache with sadness,
Our eyes shed many a tear.
God alone knows how we have missed you,
These 15 sad long years.
Sadly missed by his grandmother who reared him, Mrs. Maggie Kimbro of Harrisburg, his mother, Mrs. Helen Falls, of Muncie, Ind., also hosts of friends in Harrisburg and Muncie.

Gen. Gruenther said the nation's growth has intensified and complicated the job of the Red Cross, which has launched its 1958 fund drive with a goal of $95,000,000. Gallatin County's quota is $2,010.

President Eisenhower recently stated that disaster comes like a thief in the night and it will strike again, unannounced, somewhere, some time. It is heart warming to know that the Red Cross is always on the job to relieve the hurt and bring hope to stricken communi-

Protect Our Public Lands Theme of Wildlife Week

SPRINGFIELD — National Wildlife Week, March 15-22, will be a good time for Illinois citizens to "take stock of our progress" in meeting conservation needs, Gov. Stratton said today. "Protect Our Public Lands" is the theme of the 1958 observance of wildlife week. "Conservationists face a stiff struggle to keep up with the destructive forces," Stratton said, "but there is an evident increase in public interest being shown toward these problems, and with proper leadership and direction, this interest will become a force for good." The Conservation Department's program of land acquisition will permit development of additional wildlife refuges, scenic areas and recreational resources, he said. "We urge Illinois people to take stock of our progress and the future conservation needs during National Wildlife Week. Then we ask their cooperation as the state moves forward to wiser use of our public lands," the governor said. The Daily Register 30c a week by carrier boy.

WEBQ Program to Feature Alaska Hospital

Radio Station WEBQ will broadcast a program 7-7:15 p. m. Saturday, about the Maynard McDougal Memorial hospital in Nome, Alaska, sent on tape to the Woman's Society for Christian Service of the First Methodist church by Opal Catlin, R. N., who is the administrator of the hospital. Mrs. Catlin was formerly night supervisor of nurses at the Lightner and Harrisburg hospitals and also served as school nurse in Harrisburg for several years. Maynard McDougal Memorial hospital was built and is supported by the Methodist church women of the U. S. It is the only hospital for white people in west Alaska in that vast region from Fairbanks to the western limits. Teachers, workers and some military personnel have made use of its facilities and Mrs. Catlin reports that this has been a bad year for pneumonia, straining the hospital resources. There is a Filipino cook at the hospital who is retired from the U. S. Navy, and the first Eskimo nurse to be graduated at the hospital is now serving as a nurse. Another nurse is from American Samoa and saw her first snow in Nome. The accompanying picture shows a part of the staff, including the cook standing in the front row. Mrs. Catlin is in the rear center of the group between the two men. She did not name the other people in the picture.

Marion Veterans Hospital Issues Appeal for Nurses

An appeal for nurses for immediate appointment at the Veterans Administration hospital, Marion, was issued today by Dr. Chalmer Davee, manager of the hospital. He requested that registered professional nurses available for full time employment contact him, or the Chief, Nursing Service, at the hospital. The health and welfare of our disabled veterans depend upon an adequate nursing staff, he said. The 176 bed VA hospital in Marion, serves veteran patients from Illinois, Indiana, and Kentucky. VA nurses have excellent opportunities for professional advancement. Dr. Davee pointed out. In service programs, ward conferences and other learning experiences provide means for personal and professional growth, he said, and VA nurses are encouraged to engage in advanced study. In addition to periodic pay increases and consideration for promotion, VA nurses receive the retirement and life insurance benefits established for Federal employees and earn 30 days of annual leave and 15 days of sick leave each year, he said. Living accommodations are available in the nurses' quarters if desired. Dr. Davee said salaries of VA nurses range from approximately $4500 annually for the Junior grade, to an approximate $9000 annually for the assistant director grade. Registered professional nurses interested in further information may also contact the Personnel Officer at the VA Hospital, Marion.

Plans Progressing for Popcorn Farmers Day

National Popcorn Farmers Day, set to be held in Ridgway on Saturday, April 12, under sponsorship of the Blevins Popcorn Company in connection with the dedication of Popcorn Village, is being heralded as the biggest event in local history. Frequent planning committee meetings are being held and the local citizens are offering their full cooperation to the sponsors in an all-out effort to make the day a grand success. Announcement has been made that a $100 U. S. Savings Bond has been added as the grand prize in the "New Ways to Use Old-fashioned Popcorn" contest. This is in addition to the first prizes for each category — an all-electric skillet, and a 12-piece camera outfit (valued at $29.95). The first category is the construction in miniature of any one or all of the buildings that make up a popcorn village, and the other is approximately thirty the year-round," Blevins said. "Since we started business in Ridgway with one small crib in 1948, we have paid farmers in the area a total of about $3,000,000 for popcorn." decoration forms prepared from popped corn — or party table decoration centerpieces. When popcorn farmers and others gather for this unusual event, they will see a major contributor to the region's economy. The big Blevins popcorn company's processing and packaging plant — one of the world's largest — distributes approximately a half million dollars a year for all types of expenditures, most of which goes into the southern Illinois economy. This was announced yesterday by Jim Blevins, president. "The plant paid about $100,000 in salaries alone to employees last year with employment averaging. A highlight of the celebration will be dedication of popcorn village, and commemoration of the 100 millionth Pops-Rite package, the brand packed at Ridgway. A "gold" commemorative can will be given visitors. There will be games, entertainment and contests with many valuable prizes which include large amounts of fertilizers and hybrid seed. Farmers will be given a tour of the big Blevins plant to see just what happens to their crop when it is being conditioned for the trade. Popcorn Ford and his Kernels, straight from the Hills of Kentucky, will be on hand to furnish folk and hillbilly music, and play all the famous popcorn songs. John Scherrer, representing the Ridgway Chamber of Commerce, and William (Bill) Robbins are the official hosts for National Popcorn Farmers' Day.

Plane to Play Role of Tornado Sunday In Area Storm-Warning Alert Drill

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A low-flying airplane will play the role of a tornado Sunday, March 16, in a storm warning alert drill for Southern Illinois. Dr. Frank Bridges of Southern Illinois University, chairman of the area Civil Defense Association reported today. The light plane will follow an irregular northeastern course at low speed, beginning about 2 p. m. at the southwest corner of the state, according to Bob Bowen, West Frankfort, chairman of the Southern Illinois Storm Warning Communications Committee. Midwestern Aero Service of Carbondale will furnish the plane. Plans for the alert were discussed at a meeting Monday night, March 10, in Carbondale. More than 120 Civil Defense directors, sheriffs, police chiefs, amateur radio operators, and other communications representatives attended. Towns as far south as Cairo and as far north as Breese were represented. The public will not be aware of Sunday's drill, Bowen said, since cooperating communities will not sound their sirens and radio and television stations will receive but not broadcast "storm" messages. The drill plane's route will be traced by spotters and relayed throughout the area over an amateur radio network, using Anna as a control center. "We don't expect everything to go smoothly," Bowen said. "That's the purpose of the drill. We want to find out what's wrong with our system before the real thing comes." Parts of Southern Illinois were battered by tornadoes last December. Some communities were caught by surprise because no area-wide warning system was in operation. Bowen said in an actual storm situation, communities will be alerted by radio through an area communications control center which probably will be located at Southern Illinois University. These communities, in turn, will keep the control center informed of local storm activity through their amateur radio operators or by telephone. All area residents, especially those living in rural areas or in small villages, will be best informed during stormy conditions by keeping tuned to the radio, Bowen said. He recommended that families have portable radios in case of power failure.

Indonesia Charges Aircraft Drop Arms to Rebels in Sumatra Area

SINGAPORE (AP) — An Indonesian army spokesman charged today in Jakarta that "foreign aircraft" dropped arms and ammunition to rebel forces in the big Sumatra oil field area around Pekanbaru.

The spokesman said the "foreign aircraft" dropped the supplies to the rebels just as government paratroopers were leaping into the area in a successful attack on Pekanbaru.

Other Jakarta reports said Indonesian government troops landed at several places on the west coast of Central Sumatra and are driving on the rebel stronghold of Padang. The spokesman would not confirm these reports.

Lt. Col. Pinnadie, the army spokesman, said the rebels apparently intended to destroy the American-owned oil installations of the Caltex Pacific Oil Co. but were prevented from doing so by loyal commandos.

The paratroopers seized the bulk of the foreign-supplied arms and ammunition before the rebels could seize it, he said. He would not identify the foreign country he said was involved.

A United Press dispatch from Bukittinggi disclosed that about 800 Americans in the Central Sumatra area are safe. Radio messages intercepted there reported "All here in good health and spirits."

In Singapore Rear Adm. R. S. Benson, commander of U. S. Cruiser Division One, told a news conference that American warships will move in to evacuate American nationals and property only if asked to help by the Indonesian government.

Royalton Residents to Build Medical Building; Hope to Attract Doctor

By SAM HANCOCK
United Press Staff Correspondent
ROYALTON, Ill. (AP) — The failure of its principal source of livelihood didn't shake this town of 1,500 out of its complacency, but the death of its only doctor last year did.

The rich coal veins under the town finally played out in 1951 and two mines closed. Some citizens found work at factories in nearby towns and others moved away.

Then last October, Dr. W. R. Tweedy died. He had delivered the town's babies and treated its assorted illnesses over a period of decades.

In the quest of a new doctor, citizens formed Royalton Commu-ity Development Inc. Its president is Mike Akulow, 31, who has a rural mail route in the morning and attends college as a business administration major in the afternoons.

Sometime this month the town will begin construction of a medical building for a doctor. A three-month drive ending last month produced $6,000 for materials for the building.

Crafts in royalton have agreed to donate their time to construct the building, dealers will sell supplies at cost, and anonymous benefactors bought and donated two choice lots as a location for the doctor's office.

Contributions in the drive ranged from 50 cents to $500, Akulow said.

Several widows were among the contributors. A Herrin auto dealer donated a used car that brought in $300.

Akulow says he does not think it will be difficult to attract a doctor once the building is completed.

"We don't plan to give it to him, though," Akulow said. "We are interested in getting some young doctor to settle down here. We want to help him get a start and will lease, rent or eventually sell the building to him. We will make it as easy as possible for him when he starts out."

Akulow says it will be "up to the people" as to what will be done with the money, once the building pays out.

"Maybe the money will be divided among the contributors. Or it may be put into another project—we need a dentist, too," Akulow said.

Use Caution in Talk Plans: Adlai

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson warned Wednesday night that the United States should take a cautious attitude in approaching a summit meeting with Russia.

The twice-defeated Democratic candidate for president said that the United States should beware of a meeting with the Soviets without first establishing an agenda which had been worked out with careful preliminary meetings at lower diplomatic levels. He also cautioned that too much not be expected from a meeting between President Eisenhower and communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev.

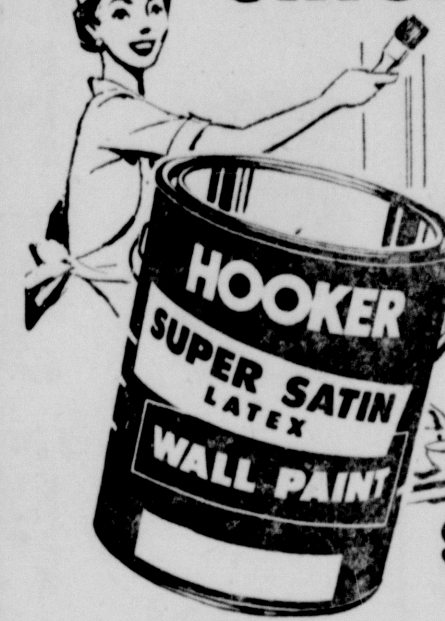

Stevenson, who spoke over the CBS radio program, "Radio Beat" said that a meeting without adequate preparation could cause trouble with America's allies. He warned that "it would be a very unhappy thing if we let the Soviet Union force us into a meeting where the United States is further split off from its allies."

Stevenson said that a summit meeting would not result in great changes in the cold war.

"There is, however, a reason for hopes and optimism that we might accomplish something on a less exalted scale," he said.

Cardinals Sign Bonus Player

ST. LOUIS — The St. Louis Cardinals today announced the signing of another bonus baby, Rich Rogers, 20-year-old junior at St. Louis University, to a two-year contract estimated at $20,000.

Rogers, who starred as a basketball player on Eddie Hickey's team in the season just completed, played first base and the outfield and caught. He is right-handed.

Art Rutzong, business manager of the Cardinals, said the youth was signed because he showed promise as a catcher, a trade currently in short supply in the majors.

As a sophomore at St. Louis U. last year, Rogers batted .435, an average which put him in the first 10 college hitters in national NCAA competition.

He will fly immediately to Daytona Beach, Fla., with Joe Monahan, the Cardinals scout who signed him, to report to the Omaha club, the Cardinals' American Association farm team.

Carrier Mills Faces West Frankfort Tonight In Sectional Tourney

The Wildcats of Carrier Mills face the West Frankfort Red Birds at eight o'clock tonight in the Harrisburg sectional basketball tournament and the game is expected to be a much more interesting affair than Mt. Vernon's 92-43 rout of Metropolis in the tourney opener last night.

Coach A. L. Willis' Wildcats, with one of the best all-around boys in southern Illinois in 6-2 Vern Rolins and a fine outcourt shooter in Gary Taborn plus good boys in Jack Keene, Bill Smith and Junior Manier, will be facing the team that has been regarded the third choice to win the state meet at Champaign next week. In fact, since Herrin's losses through injuries, they should be considered No. 2 behind Rock Falls right now.

Coach George Iubelt's Red Birds feature a great shot in rugger Francis Florian and a fine center in 6-5 Vlado Zavich. In fact, Frankfort puts a very rugged looking first five on the floor Championship Tilt Friday.

Mt. Vernon and tonight's winner will meet at 8 p. m. Friday for the sectional championship and the champ will face the winner of the Pinckneyville sectional next Tuesday night at West Frankfort in the first round of the state meet.

The Rams of Mt. Vernon last night went through their tilt with a relaxed monotony and looked invincible against Claude Shelton's Trojans. In fact the game could be called a rout from start to finish. Coach Scotty Gill's boys, making better than half their shots from the field, ran up a 23-5 lead at the quarter, made it 46-19 at halftime and 70-34 at the end of the third period.

Shelton had a young squad, consisting of four sophomores, three juniors and three seniors, and two sophs, Koch and Strickland, saw considerable action. The others were Quint and Brinker.

Rams Shoot .535
The Rams, official statistics showed, made 38 baskets from the field in 71 attempts for a .535 average. Metropolis made 16 field goals in 52 tries for .304.

High scorer was Willie Rodgers of the Rams, who made 25 points. Strong Willie, who usually is content to let other boys do most of the scoring and confine his talents to rebounding, was driving under the basket and flipping the ball through the net back.

Mizell Comes Through as Cards Win, 6-0

By United Press
St. Louis Cardinal Manager Fred Hutchinson's worst headache is cured today—thanks to Vinegar Bend Mizell's special brand of aspirin tablets.

The pitcher Hutchinson says "Must make a vital contribution if we are to win the pennant" came through his spring debut with flying colors Wednesday as the Cardinals blanked the New York Yankees, 6-0, in a rain-shortened six-inning game. Mizell went the first four innings, yielding one hit and struck out three Yankees, including Mickey Mantle.

It was the most important news event in the Cardinal camp so far because the 27-year old speedballer from Leaksville, Miss., was the staff's "ugly duckling" last year. He couldn't get anybody out during spring training, was dropped from the starting rotation at the beginning of the season and didn't win a game until June 9.

Stan Musial blasted a 430-foot triple to spark the Cardinals' seven-hit attack on Bob Turley and Bobby Shantz.

Danny McDevitt pitched four hitless innings for the Los Angeles Dodgers in a 4-3 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves. McDevitt retired all 12 batters he faced and struck out seven.

The Chicago White Sox rallied for five runs in the seventh inning

Rock Falls Thumps E. Rockford, 89-67; East St. Louis Lincoln Upsets Pincks

By United Press
The Rock Falls Rockets soared into the sectional finals of the state high school basketball tournament today on the strength of a thumping, 89-67, triumph over Rockford East.

Other big winners in the first round of sectional play Wednesday night included Mount Vernon, Quincy, Springfield and Peoria Spalding.

First round sectional play will be completed tonight when defending state champion Herrin and 29 other downstate teams swing into action.

Once-beaten Rock Falls, whose potent offense has rolled up a high of 142 points in a single game, was threatened when East tied the score at 50-all late in the third quarter.

But then the Rockets broke the game wide open with eight straight points and ended the challenge. Forward Jim Cain topped the Rockers scoring with 22 points, while Jim Slikas was high for the E-Rabs with 21.

East St. Louis Beats Pincks

East St. Louis Lincoln advanced to an expected Friday showdown with Herrin at Pinckneyville by ousting the host Pincks, 72-69. Pinckneyville trailed throughout the game, but did manage to forge ahead twice in the last quarter.

Mount Vernon ran up the night's high score in blasting Metropolis, 92-43, at Harrisburg. Willie Rodgers with 25 points and Jack Kot-

Looking at Sports

BY BILL MELTON

Fifty-three University of Illinois athletes who competed in five winter sports have been awarded varsity letters by the Athletic Council. Douglas R. Mills, director of athletics, has announced.

Only one honest-to-goodness southern Illinois athlete was on the list—Robert Becker of Carmi being awarded a fencing letter.

On the fringe of the area usually thought of as southern Illinois were the following — Basketball: Don Ohl, Mannie Jackson and Governor Vaughn, all of Edwardsville; Larry Breyfogle and Alan Gosnell, both of Lawrenceville, and Edward Perry, Salem.

Ronald Mitchell and Warren Dancer, both of East St. Louis, received letters in track and fencing respectively.

Freshman basketball numerals were won by Wayne Neibel, West Frankfort, and William Mohlenbrock, Murphysboro, and Terry Bethel, Collinsville, also was in the freshman group.

Don Ohl, who paced the U of I to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-2, and the Cincinnati Redlegs scored four runs in the ninth to whip the Detroit Tigers, 9-7, in the only other games, Cleveland vs. Chicago, Baltimore vs. San Francisco, Kansas City vs. Philadelphia and Washington vs. Boston were rained out.

The Daily Register 30c a week by carrier boy.

WEBC of Harrisburg will be one of the thirty-two radio stations broadcasting the state tournament. Other southern Illinois stations carrying the tourney include Herrin, Carmi, Centralia, Metropolis and Fairfield.

The score was tied five times in the last quarter at Champaign before Rantoul emerged with a 61-54 win over Cissna Park.

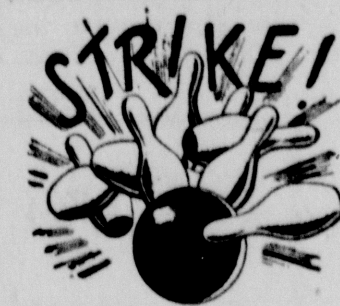

Jerseyville built up an early lead to take Litchfield, 66-51, at Wood River. Bill Smith was high scorer for the winners with 24 points and Jim Brandt set the pace for Litchfield with 16.

At Arlington Heights, Maine got by Barrington, 67-62.

In the Chicago Public League playoffs, Marshall rallied in the final period to defeat Du Sable, 66-61, and advance to Friday's final against Dunbar.

NO FUN—Los Angeles Dodgers Captain Pee Wee Reese grimly works with teammate Rube Walker at Vero Beach, Fla., camp. It's an exercise designed to de-winterize the midsection.

Population in Illinois Estimated At 9,754,000

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — The population of Illinois reached an estimated 9,754,000 in July 1957. This is an increase of 12 per cent over the state's 1950 census count of 8,712,000.

The 1957 estimates of Illinois' population were prepared for the state Department of Public Health by the Population Research and Training Center of the University of Chicago.

In commenting on the report, Dr. Roland R. Cross, state Director of Public Health, pointed out that "the excess of births over deaths is about 135,000 each year. About 82 per cent of the growth in population since 1950 is due to natural increase."

The remaining 18 per cent increase is due to in-migration. The number of persons moving into the state exceeds those leaving by about 30,000 annually.

The report also shows that counties experiencing the most "rapid" growth in population from 1950 to 1957 are mainly in metropolitan areas. Counties with an estimated increase of 18 per cent or more include: DuPage, Grundy, Kane, Kankakee, Lake, Madison, Massac, McHenry, St. Clair, Will, Winnebago and Woodford.

The report indicates that about 66 per cent of the state's population, or 6.4 million, resided in cities of this size (10,000 or over) in 1957, compared with 64 per cent, or 5.6 million, in 1950.

LEAD WITH YOUR LEFT

by ED LACY

It was a few minutes before 11 when I unlocked our door. The lamp looked like a drippy flower and cost 57 bucks strictly because it was imported from Denmark. I could just about make out the couch opened as a bed, was surprised Mary was in the hay so early. I called out softly, "Babes?" She didn't answer.

I took off my coat and tie, then my shoulder holster, went through my pockets and put everything on the table beside the lamp. I dropped my suit on the floor; it was due for the cleaner's anyway and we only had one closet and no room for soiled clothes. For a hundred and twenty bucks a month you'd think we'd have room enough to move around. But not at this "good" address on East 69th Street. Still I couldn't entirely blame Mary. I got some kicks out of living in a swank joint, and all the modern nutty furniture we were in hock for.

Bed felt great. I'd been going since eight in the morning. Starting up at the darkness I wondered if Ed Owens had a hundred-and-twenty-buck apartment. I saw Owens in the alley again. The wrong angle his body made said he had to be dead. Who dropped the newspaper over his face, the headline and pictures about the ball game? Why don't they want anybody to see a dead face? Or maybe the dead don't want to see us live jokers.

Mary had a heavy way of breathing, almost a light more. I didn't hear it so she wasn't asleep, just laying there sore as a boil at me. I said, "Look, honey, I did try to call—at six—but you weren't home. I got stuck on a big case."

"Sure, you put in overtime, four to 11, seven hours—a day's work on a normal job. What did you get, time and a half or double time, for it?"

I sat up in bed. "A man who'd been a good cop, gave almost 30 years of his life to protecting people, was shot down in an alley. Sure, you're not interested, no body is. That's the trouble to day."

Mary turned over, faced me in the darkness. "Dave, you came home seven hours late, seven hours, so I'm hardly in the mood for any of your childish speeches." She said "childish" to steam me but I said evenly, "Maybe Owens' wife doesn't think it's a speech. Maybe she's wondering what living is all about when a retired cop has to work as a $25-a-week messenger and gets killed in the bargain. Some bargain!"

SHE shook her head and most of her trim body under the pajamas shook too. "Don't try to sell me, I know the pitch—you're David Wintino, the youngest detective on the force. Want me to take out the newspaper picture of the Commissioner shaking your hand?" She paused. "Some people do get ahead. Clerks do become executives—when they have somebody behind them. Uncle Frank called me at the office, asked why you haven't been down to see him."

"Babes, I'm not interested in the freight business or in being the boss's pet relation."

"She got under the cover, turned her back on me. I put out the light. After a moment I could hear her weeping. I rolled her over, kissed her, her hair so soft and her skin cool where it wasn't wet with tears. I held her tight, a little proud that this beautiful chick was mine. For a moment that was all that mattered. "Honey," I whispered, "I don't mean to make you cry. We'll work things out."

"Will we, Dave?" she said in my ear, her lips warm.

"Of course we will. Okay, I'll go have a talk with your uncle."

"And nothing will come of it. You like being a detective."

"Babes, you want me to soft-talk you? All right, I like the job."

"I won't listen."

"Yes, you will. You want to work, a career—great. I never asked or wanted you to spend all your time handling a dust mop or a frying pan. I never tell you to change your job. Why can't you understand that being a cop is my work, something I think is important? That's what I mean by being a cop's wife. Honey, before you get too set up in this advertising business, let's have a kid."

"What?"

"I want a baby," I said, not really sure if I wanted one so soon. "We have a child now, by the time he's 15, we'll only be 36, we'll all be pals. Have your career but let's make a baby first. And in a year—you'll only be 22 or three by then—we'll get somebody to look after the baby and you can go back to the agency business again. I don't know, maybe that's what we need to settle us."

"I want my baby to have a father not a lousy posthumous medal. No, Dave. You know now where I stand. As to how it's going to add, that's for you to decide, Dave. Are you married to me or to your badge?"

That was a wallop that shook all the tiredness out of me. "You realize what you're saying?"

"I certainly do because I know what fun it was before you got on the force. Even when we were living in that crummy room and watching our pennies. It was fun then. It isn't now. Good night, David."

"Good night, Mary." I turned toward the windows. Outside a car went by now and then, in the distance a horn sounded, then the small scream of brakes.

Babes was right, it had been great in the beginning. Even when I was a soldier and Mary had to sneak out of her house to see me. Maybe I was her way of getting to New York City, a one-way ticket from the hick town? Naw, that wasn't fair. Babes was the best at times. Maybe it was her job: ever since she'd gone on this Madison Avenue kick she'd been rough. Trouble was, lately I felt as if I'd married Mom.

For no reason I suddenly saw the old flat, Mom shrilling, "You're trying to kill my baby!" Her gray hair all wild-looking and her face so pale.

She had to say "baby." And Dom Franzino rubbing his bald head, embarrassed as he said, "But Mrs. Wintino, he ain't no baby. He's a natural welter and going on 18. Ten amateur fights with nine kayos. Nine kayos, Mrs. Wintino. Dave can take a man out with his left. Fans go for a puncher, go nuts over a left-hook artist. And his baby puss won't hurt none. He'll make a fortune, a—"

"Killing my baby," Mom moaned, wringing her hands, her face looking as if it was coming apart at the wrinkles. "No... never!" Then Pop coughed slightly, said in Italian, "Mr. Franzino, my wife is sick. We will talk this over, let you know our decision."

Two weeks later I was in the Army. Mom used to cry about me getting drafted, now she was relieved. My left loused up the Army for me, never left the States—spent all my time on a service boxing team in Salt Lake City, fighting a few bootleg pro bouts.

That's over, never was. And in the morning Mary will feel better. I should have phoned her, could have done it easily enough. Forget all this wind. All I should be thinking about is finding who killed Ed Owens. Think about that and only that.

It was a little after two in the afternoon. Danny Hayes and I had returned to the precinct house from talking to a shop owner who claimed a couple of boluses had been lifted from the counters. We'd just parked in front of the station house when Lieutenant Reed, in charge of the Detective Squad, and Captain Lampkin, the boss of the precinct came running down the old brick steps, jumped into our squad car as Lampkin said, "Killing. Seventy-eighth. Stick-up. Get the siren working." Lampkin was a big sloppy square who always talked like a teletype message.

The body was at the entrance to the delivery alley that led to the back of the house, a plump man in a worn suit, the frayed collar on his white shirt and tie dirty tie all bloody. One foot was bent far under the body in a position that would have hurt if he'd been alive. He was wearing heavy socks with the ends of gray winter underwear stuck in them, high black shoes that needed re-soles. When Reed pulled back the paper this puffy face with some red veins in the long nose stared up at us with mild surprise.

All his pockets were turned out, the inside pocket torn. There was a torn wallet, a crumpled pack of butts, keys, a bulky old lighter, and a pack of mints scattered on the cement floor near his body. (To Be Continued)

Although more than 17 million persons in the United States suffer from some form of allergic disease, there are not more than 1,500 doctors practicing in the field of allergy in this country.

Mrs. Bedie Harris returned from Murray, Ky., Saturday where she has been visiting for the past three weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doran. Another ar rival in the Doran household was Carl Hansford Doran, born Feb. 12. He is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Doran and so the grand son of Mrs. Harris.

The union midweek service met in Mt. Moriah church last week. L. L. Riegel led the singing and special music was presented by Mrs. Clifford Knight and daughter, Jo Ella, who played the piano and organ. Rev. Vola Sittig, Rev. Irvin Brader and Noble Woolard led in prayer and Rev. Sittig, pastor of Union Chapel, gave the preaching message. Rev. George Jenkins is pastor of Mt. Moriah and Lone Oak and the services will be held at Lone Oak next week.

The churches have been holding the union meetings for a month and find the plan most successful. The public is invited to attend.
